

The Pacific Northwest Girls Collaborative Project (PNWGCP) brings together organizations and individuals that are committed to informing and motivating girls to pursue careers in science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM) to encourage collaboration and improve communication and partnerships between programs and key stakeholders.

For more information about the Pacific Northwest Girls Collaborative Project, contact Nimisha Ghosh Roy, nghoshroy@edlabgroup.org.

Pacific Northwest Girls
Collaborative

Building the Capacity of STEM Practitioners to Develop a Diverse Workforce

Our goals are to strengthen capacity, increase continuation of girl-serving STEM programs, and create a wider audience for gender-related STEM issues.

www.ngcproject.org/pnwgcp

EVENTS:

Webinars, Conferences, and Forums conducted by the PNWGCP share research-based exemplary practices in informal learning, evaluation, and assessment.

RESOURCES:

The online Program Directory allows programs to share needs and resources as well as program contact information to foster collaboration.

Mini-grants opportunities are available to girl-serving STEM programs to support collaboration projects.

The e-newsletter supports efforts in gender- and diversity-related issues in STEM fields. Members of the listserv receive information about the National Girls Collaborative Project (NGCP) and the PNWGCP, as well as information from other local programs and organizations that may be valuable for STEM-related programs, including funding opportunities, resources, and upcoming events.

LEADERSHIP TEAM AND CHAMPIONS BOARD:

Champions Board members give the project a balance of desirable expertise and regional representation, and include industry representatives, informal learning educators, gender equity experts, science and mathematics education representatives, and educational policy experts.

Leadership Team members bring STEM and program management expertise to the PNWGCP's work. Leadership Team members also provide regional representation within the Pacific Northwest. Leadership team members:

- Manage webinars, conferences, and events
- Maintain the PNWGCP website
- Organize the email list
- Develop and distribute the e-newsletter
- Coordinate the mini-grant process
- Recruit local programs to the Program Directory
- Support media relations and publicity